403(b) ERISA Plan Overview
Basic plan Features	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Eligibility requirements for employer contributions can include up to age 21 and one year of service (1,000 hours) • Employer nonelective contributions are discretionary (from 0 to 25%) • Employer matching contributions can be discretionary or fixed • Employer nonelective contributions are allocated according to the formula specified in the plan • Employer contributions can be tied to a vesting schedule based on years of service • All of the participant's account balance is payable upon retirement, disability or death, but only the vested balance is payable with any other severance from employment • Taxable distributions for reason of disability, death or after age 55 and severance from employment avoid the IRS 10% early withdrawal penalty • Employees can defer any or all distributions until they are subject to IRS minimum distribution rules at the later of the IRS RMD age or retirement • Younger and long-term employees may benefit the most because they have more contribution opportunities and a longer period of tax-deferred earnings
Contributions	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The employer's contribution is limited to 25% of eligible compensation • The maximum annual addition to a participant's account is the lesser of 100% of their compensation, subject to a $70,000 annual limit (2025), plus any catch-up contributions
Plan Suitability	403(b) ERISA Plans are favored when the employer: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Wants to give Employees the opportunity to enhance their own retirement benefits • Wants employees to make all or part of their contributions • Wants to limit Employer contribution obligations (matching contributions can be either a predetermined formula or discretionary) • Wants flexibility in making nonelective contributions
Advantages of a 403(b) ERISA Plan over a 401(k) Plan or SIMPLE IRA	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Part-time employees can be excluded (1,000 hour requirement) – [SIMPLE IRA] • Employees can defer more of their compensation – [SIMPLE IRA] • Roth 403(b) contributions are available – [SIMPLE IRA] • Employer matching contributions are discretionary and can be larger – [SIMPLE IRA] • A vesting schedule can apply to employer contributions – [SIMPLE IRA] • Participant loans can be made available – [SIMPLE IRA] • The IRS 10% early withdrawal penalty can be avoided after age 55 (instead of 59½) [SIMPLE IRA] • No discrimination testing on salary deferrals – [401(k)]
